Letting Go

The flying trapeze is one of the most spectacular and dangerous acts in the circus. Two, and sometimes three, trapeze artists are swinging back and forth, timing their leap from one trapeze to another. When the time is right one flyer lets go, only to be grasped out of mid-air by the “catcher”. It is exciting to watch because we imagine ourselves as the flyer, high above the ground, hoping the catcher will catch us. Sometimes the act is even performed without a net, to add further drama. Miss the catch and it will be disaster.

Life has its similarities to the trapeze act. We swing back and forth high above the security of solid ground, without the benefit of a net. The unknown is scary as are some things we know we have to face. But, there comes a time when we have to let go. We can't hang on for dear life forever. We just have to let go and trust the catcher.

In real life, the catcher is even better than what you see in the circus. If you pray to God for help He becomes your catcher. And, he never misses. You are safe and secure, if you trust Him. Jesus said, “Trust in God; trust also in me” (John 14:1).

So, how do you know when to let go? You know when you have God waiting to catch you. Before that, you are on your own. You don't get from one trapeze bar to the other without letting go.

For the circus performer timing is everything. In real life, God's timing is always perfect. Ask him to be your "catcher" and then let go.

Reconciliation: Compassion in Action

Last week in our Secondary Chapel we began our new theme of Compassion expressed in the action of Reconciliation. Our CACS School Leaders shared with us glimpses into their family histories and we acknowledge that reconciliation is needed in every context and especially in our Australian context. We understand that the healing processes of reconciliation takes time and processes of sharing, listening, understanding, forgiving and from that place we can choose to move forward in kindness to one another.

Throughout the week we invited and encouraged each of our students to discuss reconciliation at home or with family. In addition, they had the opportunity in Bible class to share personal family history stories of reconciliation that have taken place and, how the healing process occurred along the way.

Some questions to be discussing at home and to be shared in Bible classes are;
Have you or a family member ever experienced reconciliation before?
What was the story, what happened and how was peace made?
What specific actions took place for reconciliation?
How has this family history impacted the future of your family?

This week in our Secondary Chapel we celebrated NAIDOC Week and today we had a massive multicultural lunch. We celebrated and recognised the traditional landowners of Australia being the indigenous people and from that acknowledged, hearing stories and choosing to then live with actions that work towards peace for all people.

The aim is to start sparking the conversation, about active compassionate peacemaking. It will not make everything better overnight, however if we never speak and share then nothing will ever change. The Bible reminds us of the example found in the mustard seed, it is originally so tiny and yet in time grows into a massive tree, this conversation can spark the continuing development of beautiful actions in the reconciliation journey.

We look forward to continuing this journey with you all.

There is huge shortage of Traffic Wardens and currently there is no relief for the City of Kalamunda. Parents of school parents (grandparents) may be interested. If there is any interest, they may contact the Traffic Warden State Management Unit (contact details below).

We would like to see all crossings in Western Australia covered for the safety of our children so any bit of help is most appreciated.
